

WHITE SULPHUR SEASON IS NOW AT ITS HIGH TIDE

Life at Popular Mountain Resort Ceaseless Succession of Social Events.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., Aug. 27.—The season is now at high tide here, a succession of balls, teas, bridge afternoons and sporting events rounding out the summer in a variety of activities.

In the qualifying round of the Old White Sulphur championship, which was followed with the greatest interest by the visitors, Frederick Harris, of Englewood, N. J., turned in a medal of 83 for the eighteen holes and winning second place, Johnson M. Prater, of Philadelphia, making low for the field with a card of 81.

Others qualifying were: Henry W. Pratt, R. H. Watkins, H. C. Newland, George B. Thumacher, T. Johnson, Ward, of Philadelphia, and Dwight D. Melgo, head of the Hill School at Pottstown, and trophy winner for the Greenbrier summer championship in golf.

Visit Horse Show.

The horse show held this week at Greenbrier in connection with the Greenbrier Valley Fair, was attended by a large crowd, many motoring over to see the entries of society folk from the resort. Miss Hope Bush, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irving B. Bush, rode in the three-gated saddle class, winning the blue ribbon. Lawrence Lewis won first prize for the jumpers. Miss Elizabeth Van Lusen, of Chicago, a niece of Mr. and Mrs. Thornton Lewis, also winning a first.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Stettinius, who were the hosts of General Pershing during his visit here in May, are returning this week. During their earlier visit they were joined by Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., from the University of Virginia, and by Mr. and Mrs. William C. Stettinius, who were returning to Baltimore after spending their honeymoon at Hot Springs. A large gallery was out to watch the events of the summer tennis championship, which was played this week. Among the New York entries were Mrs. Arnold W. Koecher, Miss Hope Bush, Miss Goodwyn King, Miss Marion Burton, Miss Louise Irving, and A. Mayfield Graves. Garrett B. Wall, Jr., of Richmond, was winner of the trophy, defeating Donald McLeod, of Indianapolis, in the last rounds.

The children's fancy dress ball, which is the last of a series of events for the junior visitors, was held on Thursday night, and was most successful. The ball was given by the Misses Edwards, of Norfolk, gave a number of fine dances.

The Horse Show Coliseum, for many seasons an attendant feature of the Greenbrier fair, was held at the Meadows, and attended by a gathering as notable as that at the resort of the Old White Sulphur last week. Among the guests at the resort were Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Salmon, of Atlanta, led several of the figures with Miss Rose Haldeman, of Louisville, who was also the partner of Judge Milton C. Elliott, of Washington. Among the guests at the resort were Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Best Shops Show Smart Leather Trimmings

From below.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—You may think you are going to look like a traveling bag or suit case when you hear about the new "leather trim."

But you are not.

The smartest shops are showing leather binding and leather trimmings on the new fall and winter garments.

Leather belts don't get you by at all. Leather must be conspicuous in other "trims."

The coat suit in black cloth with pin stripe of white is a dashing street costume that has the alluring touch of youth about it.

Bright red leather and steel button give the "dash" to the black and white.

The red leather bands trim the original sleeve and are also on the slightly bloused "coat" of the dress.

Bands of the red leather are also used on the pockets in front of the long overhanging side pleats. The belt is made of red leather and cloth.

The black hatter's plush turban suggests a small Napoleonic with its straight, smooth front and softer drape extending in long points at the sides.

Leather is often used in intricate designs, also, to trim waist and skirt and sleeve on the new street gowns.

been under treatment for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Van Horn have returned from a pleasure trip to Woodstock, Winchester and other points in the Valley of Virginia.

CORNS

Lift Off with Fingers

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little "Frezone" on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then shortly you lift it right off with fingers. Truly! Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of "Frezone" for a few cents, sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation.—Advertisement.

The Smart
SUITS

Great diversity is shown in Suits for the coming season—finger-tip box coats fit over narrow and short skirts (for the street they are not noticeably much longer), or, with a Russian abandon, they flare just below the hips. Of Veldyne, Velour de Laine, Moussyne or Duvelyn, with embellishment of Squirrel, Wolf, Beaver, Mole or Nutria, they create an undeniable impression of soft warmth and richness. Or, if a more practical suit is one's goal, one of Scotch Tweed, suggesting outdoors and general utility, could not be improved upon. The notched collar, pockets and narrow belt provide their own trimming.

$39.75 to $99.75

DRESSES

For general wear, Tricotine, Poiret Twill or Jersey are the leading choices. Straight lines, bloused effects, or the coat model are featured, with embroidery, stitching, ribbons, braiding or panels for trimming. Canton Crepe and the newer Crepe Satin are used for the afternoon gowns, which are beaded, embroidered, fur-trimmed or merely draped in original manner.

CALOMEL

Calomel is a dangerous drug. It is mercury—quicksilver—and attacks your bones. Take a dose of nasty calomel today and you will feel weak, sick and nauseated tomorrow. Don't lose a day's work.

Take "Dodson's Liver Tone" Instead!

Here's my guarantee! Ask your druggist for a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone and take a spoonful to night. If it doesn't start your liver and straighten you right up better than calomel and griping, making you sick, I want you to go back to the store and get your money.

Take a spoonful of harmless, vegetable Dodson's Liver Tone tonight and wake up feeling great. It's perfectly harmless, so give it to your children any time. It can't salivate, so let them eat anything afterwards.—Advertisement.

CHARACTER

Back and forth, through and through, into the intricate fabric of business are woven the golden threads of character.

Be it the strength of steel, the fine quality of cloth, or the delightful taste of nourishing food, forceful character faithful to an ideal was the dominant factor in its production.
